PRODUCT INFORMATION

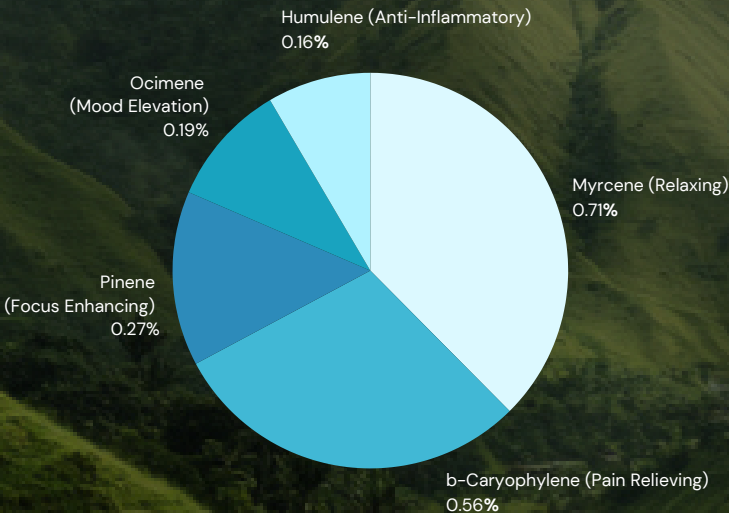

Jack Attack combines the legendary genetics of Jack Herer, a Sativa-dominant strain celebrated for its uplifting and creative effects, and Northern Lights, an Indica renowned for its relaxing and sedative qualities.

Organically grown at 2,500m elevation under the equatorial sunshine of Colombia. Research by Zandkarimi et al. (2023) and Giupponi et al. (2020) demonstrate sun-grown cannabis exhibits a higher concentration of cannabinoids, terpenes, and flavonoids, enhancing its potency and therapeutic profile.

- Coronel Buendia is a vertically integrated operation, proudly owned and operated by the Colombian farmers who grow and nurture each flower.
- We deliver only the highest-quality flower, ensuring Australian patients receive premium-grade cannabis.
- Our medications provide patients with a consistent and reliable therapeutic experience with every batch.

AFFORDABILITY

Coronel Buendia is one of the most affordable products in the Australian market.

Patients save anywhere from 16-50% per unit when they are switched by prescribers.

Annually, these savings range from $329 – $1807.

CONSISTENCY

Coronal Buendia will never swap out one cultivar for another, unlike most brands value-patients are prescribed.

We fundamentally reject this swap-out practice as it does not provide patients with the consistency required for effective treatment.

QUALITY

Coronal Buendia is a brand proudly owned and operated by the cultivators/farmers.

It is not a white label product, and the supply chain is abundant and consistent.

Only the highest quality sun-grown cannabis is exported to Australia.
